

Site: <https://iyaIA2.github.io.git>

My website will be a cooking website that teaches users how to cook certain recipes. This is a non-professional website so that it will match the users' tastes and let them know how accessible it is for them to cook at home. I made this website because cooking is one of my hobbies and although I may have some unorthodox methods of cooking, the food still turns out alright. Just as how I was able to cook without professional help, I want to be able to help people learn how to cook in my unorthodox way as well. This will not only save them time trying to learn but money as well.

Font Choices:

- Menu Header: Brush Script MT, Brush Script Std, cursive
- I kept the rest of the text in the site as Times New Roman to keep the website nice and simple. These are used mainly in descriptions.
- I made the headers for the articles bolded to catch the eyes of the users.

Color Choice:

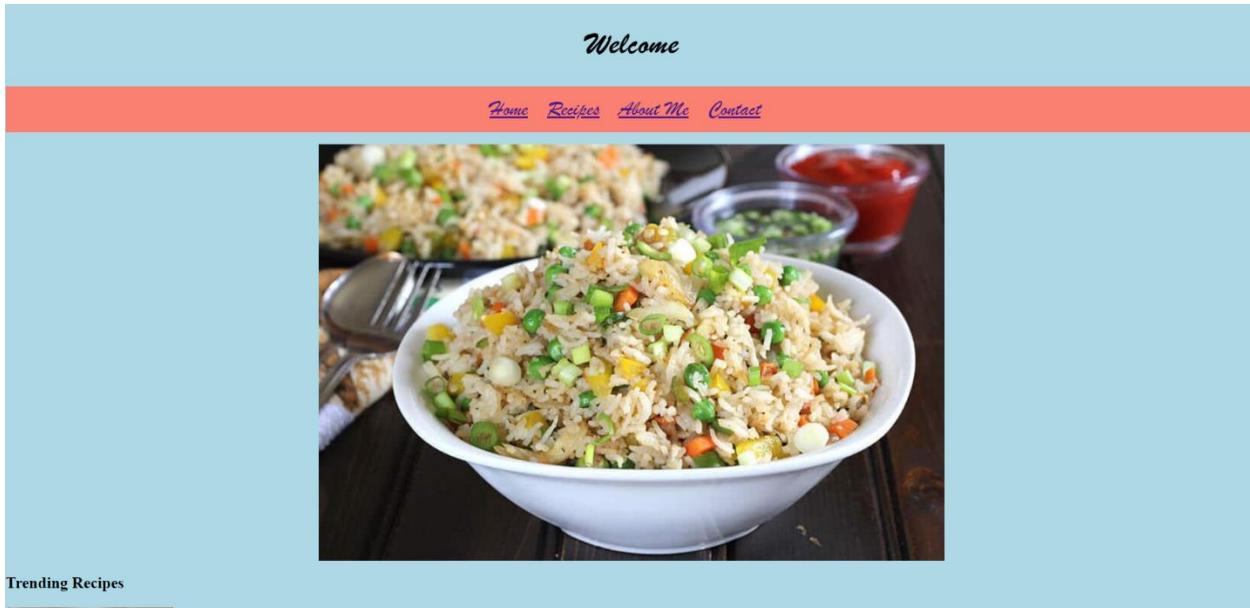

- To make the colors seem cool and relaxing for the user, I decided to go with a coral blue color.
- To make the menus and other parts of texts stand out, I decided to go with a color opposite of blue which came in the form of a salmon color.

Inspiration:

- www.thekitchn.com
 - The website inspired my blocky design.

- I added some opposite sides with the images to provide a form of contrast
